

Making images work for you - stock and professional photography

Using the right image is crucial for great designs

It's said that a picture paints a thousand words and it's a fact that high-quality professionally taken images of you, your team, your products and your premises can make a really powerful and positive statement about your business.

Words alone will not bring your brand to life, but when you combine powerful words with equally powerful images, something incredible happens.

You turn heads, you become very visible and you attract new clients. Let us bring your website, your brochures, your newsletters and sales flyers to life with images that grab attention. Why settle for second best with fuzzy images taken on your digital camera when you can take advantage of our very competitive fixed fee photography services?

They won't break the bank but they will build your brand!

A fresh approach and a sense of fun

One image per web page included Free

Images for your site...

We have access to a vast number of professional stock images for you to choose from. One image per web page is included in all our website packages. If you need additional images these can be purchased easily for fixed prices:

- £5 per image if you search our image library and select them
- £20 per image if we source these images for you

Option 1

From £150

Smile! Why use those blurry pictures from your hols or worst still, the ones you had taken for your passport when you can have your own one-to-one portrait session. Perfect for your website and indeed all of your marketing materials. You will receive a CD of your images that we have taken and of course you get to choose which one goes on your website or in your brochure. Kiss goodbye to those photo booths.

Option 2

Half day photoshoot on site

From £295

It's not just you now! Why settle for standard stock images of products where you run the risk of seeing another business using the same images, when you can really show people what you do with real live images of your products - all captured using real artistic and creative flair. Perfect for your brochure, newsletter, website, sales flyers and adverts. You will receive a CD of your images, that we have taken and again, you get to choose which images go where.

Option 3

Full day photoshoot on site

From £495

This really is the big deal! A whole day devoted to capturing images that show every single facet of your brand - your people, your products, your premises. We then spend time in the studio editing and perfecting images (airbrushing optional!). You receive a CD that you can then use for your marketing materials now and in the future. You may even be tempted to have some of the images framed and mounted in your reception area.

Need flash animation?

We can create a great 'fade in fade out' effect on your site.

Just £100 for each movie - up to six alternating images per movie

All prices subject to VAT. All services subject to our Terms and Conditions.
